A LIQUID LANDSCAPE to Release “NIGHTINGALE EXPRESS” March 13th On The Laser’s Edge

Artwork and Track Listing Revealed

A LIQUID LANDSCAPE from The Netherlands has been a live act for several years and shared the stage with bands like Karnivool (AUS), Anathema (UK), Thrice (US) and Riverside (Poland).

During the past year the band also was a finalist at the prestigious annual Dutch Grand Prize contest and on top of that they had 3 sold out Noorderzon gigs, featuring a stunning visual show.

With all the material they had written, the band reached out to Forrester Savell (Karnivool, Helmet). Forrester liked the material a lot and he agreed on mixing the album and doing some production work as well.

‘Nightingale Express’ is a concept album. This inspired moviemaker Lex Vesseur to make a short movie with music from the album. He also made the artwork and the visuals for the live show. So both the music and the film return in an interactive rock show with a live VJ.

Washed up, tired and staggering across a beach in the early hours of the morning. Somewhere in the twilight between desperation and surrender, there is still a glimmer of hope. That sense that everything will be alright, no matter what the odds are.

This is what A LIQUID LANDSCAPE sounds like.
